COUNTY GOVERNMENT (County Controller)

The County Controller is the supervising financial officer for the County of Bucks, elected for a four-year term at a salary of $6,000 annually starting January 1. The office took over the work of the former county auditors, plus a large quantity of additional duties.

The County Controller prepares the yearly budget for the County Commissioners on which they base their tax rate. The office audits and approves all county expenditures. The receipts of the county "row offices" are audited once a month, together with the monthly statement of the Bucks County Home, known as Neshaminy Manor.

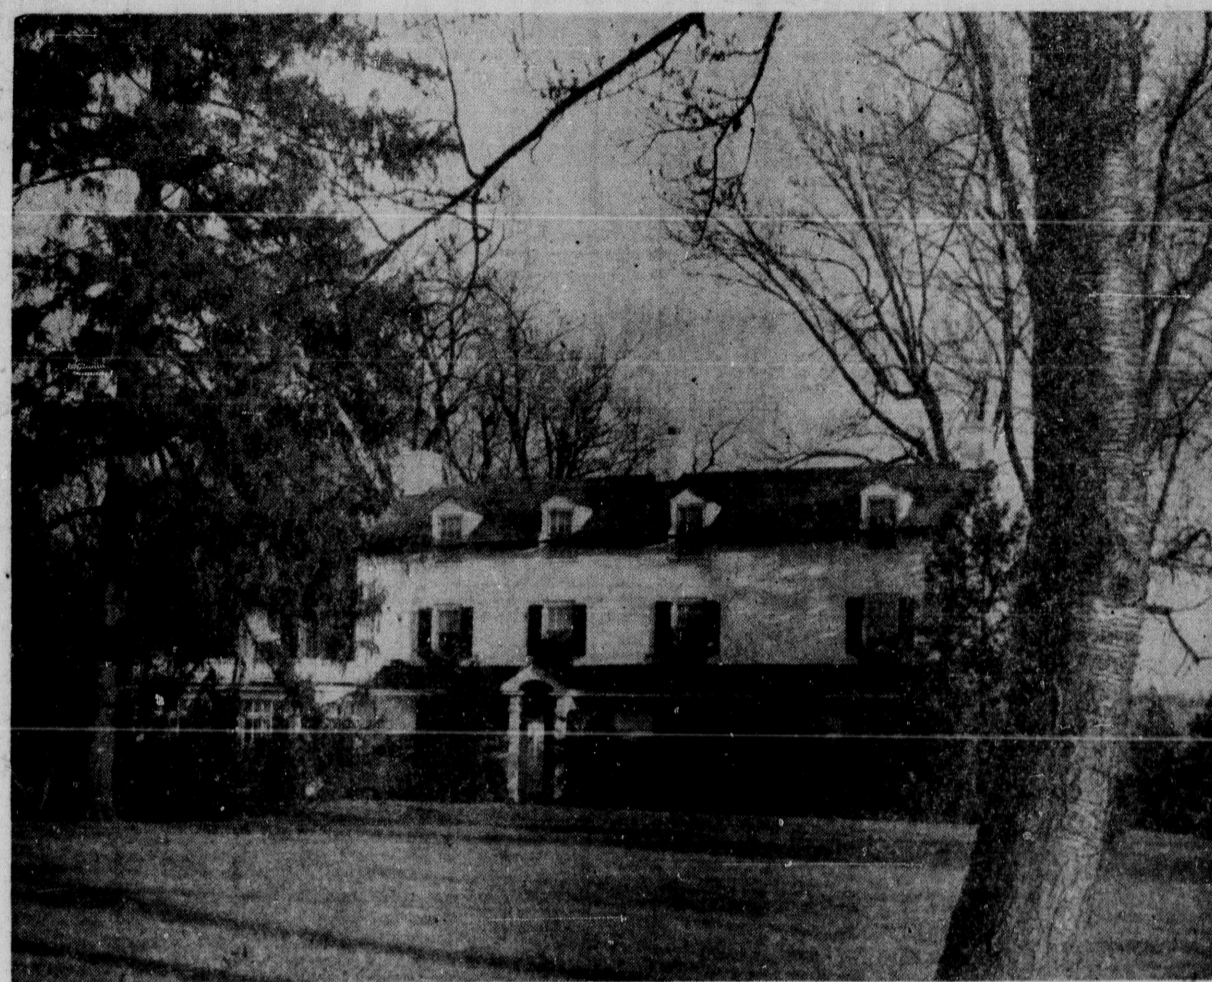

All payrolls of county employees are prepared by the Controller and his associates and in most instances the pay checks are delivered personally.

Last year the Controller's office, for instance, handled the financial end of a housekeeping business that amounted to very close to $2,000,000, a business that is growing rapidly.

The Controller's office handles all the liquid fuels funds under grants to various districts for the repair of roads, traffic lights, construction work, conduit pipes and general maintenance. In some instances this office has charge of the payment of damages.

The present Controller, Howard G. Krupp, of Chalfont, is the only one that ever held the office in Bucks County. He is the Republican choice for another term. The Democratic candidate is Warren E. Long, of Morrisville. The Deputy Prothonotary is Ernest M. Leedom, of Southampton. Quarter Sessions Office In Court House is Moved

Larger and More Attractive Quarters Aid Crowded Condition

DOYLESTOWN, May 9—For the first time in practically 75 years the Quarter Sessions Office in the Court House has moved across the corridor into larger and more attractive quarters.

Because of a 30 to 40 per cent increase in the handling of criminal cases, domestic relations and various other matters, the small office on the right hand side of the Court House was no longer large enough for Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer Court work.

Deputy Clerk of Quarter Sessions Walter C. Schroeder, Furlong, who has been in the office 16 years, said: "This last year we added 800 matters, including jurisdiction and litigation of boundary lines for school purposes."

"The Inter-State Dependency Act, which 45 out of the 48 states belongs to and permits a wife in any of the 45 states to have her husband, who has deserted her in any of the 44 other states, has greatly increased our work."

"I predict that within five years we will be as crowded in our new quarters as we were in the old ones," said Deputy Clerk Schroeder. Personnel in the Quarter Sessions.

Bristol Twp. Board Approves Re-Zoning For Low Cost Homes

Change Permits Construction of $8990 "Rancher" In Levittown

The Bristol twp. commissioners last night opened the way for the construction of the new Levittown "rancher" house by amending the township zoning code to change Levitt & Sons' undeveloped lands from R-1 and R-2 to R-3 residential zoning.

No opposition was expressed when the announcement was read for this change, and another affecting a property on Rogers Road.

In an ordinance amending the zoning code, the commissioners reduced the lot-size requirement from 10,000 and 6500 square feet to 5,000 square feet. The Rancher house, which Levitt plans to erect is designated for a lot 60 by 100 feet or 6000 square feet.

Harry Kalish, Esq., of a law firm representing Levitt & Sons attended the meeting, and said the Levitt-town builder will not erect houses there with less than 6000 square feet, and that the recreational areas and parks will provide additional land space.

Levitt announced recently that the Ranchers will be built in the same sections with the present type "Levittowners." The Levitttowners in the re-zoned area, Kalish said last night, will retain the present 7000-square foot lot.

Levitt's re-zoned territory is south of Newportville-Fallsington road, extending from Route 413 east to Oxford Valley-Fallsington road, and southward to the already developed Levittown sections. It comprises 1500 to 2000 acres.

Exempted from the zoning change were three "commercial" plots within the Levitt area that retain their commercial zoning status. These are at Bristol-Oxford Valley. Continued on Page Four

Local Man Is Fined $125 For Violation Of Zoning Ordinance

A fine of $125 and costs of $4.50 were imposed upon John Racagno, Lincoln ave., late yesterday afternoon, after Justice-of-Peace, Anthony Niccol, had found him guilty of violating the Bristol Borough Zoning Ordinance. The hearing was held in the municipal building with two witnesses testifying against Racagno who was accused of operating a rooming house at 344 Jefferson avenue.

Racagno was defended by James Fitzcharles, attorney, while George Kelton, Esq., appeared for John Fullam, borough attorney, in prosecuting the case. Fullam is vacationing in Mexico.

Kelton promptly announced that unless Racagno ceases the alleged violation at once, that he would be promptly served with another warrant this morning and again brought into court.

Fitzcharles, after sentence had been pronounced upon his client, said that he would appeal Justice Niccol's decision to the Bucks County Court. A bond was filed with Justice Niccol for $250 representing double the amount of the fine, pending the filing of the appeal.

Justice Niccol at the conclusion of the case announced that he would impose a fine of $25 for each day of the alleged violation, which he first decided was 14 days. This would make the fine total $350.

Racagno's attorney, at once protested, arguing that in accordance with the dates on the complaint filed by Livingston Joyce, zoning enforcement officer, and the date on the warrant, numbered five or from April 22nd until April 27th. After consultation this was agreed to and the $125 fine imposed. This appeared to be a technical point of law. It was then that Kelton said that Joyce would place another complaint today, if Racagno continued the alleged violation.

The complaint against Racagno was filed by Joyce who charged that Racagno violated the zoning ordinance. The area in which 344 Jefferson avenue is located is zoned as R-3.

Racagno's attorney would not permit his client to testify stating "the defendant remains silent."

Joyce told how Racagno had come to him with a plan for an

Bristol Twp. Officials Interfered, Seader Claims

Joseph O. Seader, who resigned as police chief of Bristol township last Saturday, this morning issued the following signed statement regarding the resignation:

"I resigned due to the township commissioners, namely Oscar Booz, George Sottung and Fred Hibbs running the police dept. They undermined my authority as chief by giving orders direct to the officers and changing my instructions without first consulting me. This is in direct reversal of the rules the police commissioners had made and gave me to run the police dept. Commissioner Oscar Booz gave Officer Harvey Shaw authority to change instructions I left at police headquarters in regards to duty routine of officers. This is what led to my reprimanding Officer Shaw and this led to my suspension. I was suspended without any hearing. The commissioners called me in and pulled a sheet of paper from a brief case and stated we are suspending you for two weeks. Two commissioners disagreed to the amount of time so George Sottung flipped a coin to decide the amount of time, thus the one week. I feel the suspension of Harvey Shaw and myself was brought on to force me to resign. He was given a proper hearing before being suspended and I was not present to state my side of the case. These are all the comments I will make at the present time. Further statements will be made by myself and members of the Bristol Better Government Committee at the township commissioners' meeting, May 13 at the Edgely Fire Hall."

Because of a 30 to 40 per cent increase in the handling of criminal cases, domestic relations and various other matters, the small office on the right hand side of the Court House was no longer large enough for Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer Court work.

Deputy Clerk of Quarter Sessions, Walter C. Schroeder, Furlong, who has been in the office 16 years, said: "This last year we added 800 matters, including jurisdiction and litigation of boundary lines for school purposes."

"The Inter-State Dependency Act, which 45 out of the 48 states belongs to and permits a wife in any of the 45 states to have her husband, who has deserted her in any of the 44 other states, has greatly increased our work."

"I predict that within five years we will be as crowded in our new quarters as we were in the old ones," said Deputy Clerk Schroeder. Personnel in the Quarter Sessions.

Suggests Wildflowers To Add Interest to Gardens

Winder Village Green Thumb Club held a meeting May 6th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Norbeck, Winder Village.

There was general discussion on garden problems. Robert Hendricks showed color slides of wildflowers of Bucks county. He explained some of the life cycles and history of flowers. Its was surprising to members, that some plants they pull out as weeds, bear very pretty blossoms. He informed that most of them can be transplanted to home gardens to help make the gardens interesting, as well as beautiful.

Some members provided flower arrangements. It was decided to have future displays judged.

Bristol Twp. Board Approves Re-Zoning For Low Cost Homes

Change Permits Construction of $8990 "Rancher" In Levittown

The Bristol twp. commissioners last night opened the way for the construction of the new Levittown "rancher" house by amending the township zoning code to change Levitt & Sons' undeveloped lands from R-1 and R-2 to R-3 residential zoning.

No opposition was expressed when the announcement was read for this change, and another affecting a property on Rogers Road.

In an ordinance amending the zoning code, the commissioners reduced the lot-size requirement from 10,000 and 6500 square feet to 5,000 square feet. The Rancher house, which Levitt plans to erect is designated for a lot 60 by 100 feet or 6000 square feet.

Harry Kalish, Esq., of a law firm representing Levitt & Sons attended the meeting, and said the Levittown builder will not erect houses there with less than 6000 square feet, and that the recreational areas and parks will provide additional land space.

Levitt announced recently that the Ranchers will be built in the same sections with the present-type "Levittowners." The Levittowners in the re-zoned area, Kalish said last night, will retain the present 7000-square foot lot.

Levitt's re-zoned territory is south of Newportville-Fallsington road, extending from Route 413 east to Oxford Valley-Fallsington road, and southward to the already developed Levittown sections. It comprises 1500 to 2000 acres.

Exempted from the zoning change were three "commercial" plots within the Levitt area that retain their commercial zoning status. These are at Bristol-Oxford Valley

The two missing Bristol Terrace boys, Stephen Williams, 16, of 324 Magnolia drive and Louis Black, 13, of 401 Court A, both of Terrace II, were returned to their homes Thursday night by Stephen's mother, who drove to Pemberton, W. Va., to retrieve them. The boys, missing since May 1, had been the object of a search by Bristol twp. police and state police who sent a teletype message to several states.

A 1951 Buick sedan was reported stolen from the parking lot of Kaiser parking lot No. 1 by the car's owner Gerald Marbin, of Phila. The car was reported stolen between 6:30 a. m. and 12 p. m. yesterday according to borough police who received the report.

19 Treated at New Center in Bristol Hospital

Nineteen patients were treated at Bristol General Hospital yesterday in the opening session of the Bucks County Arthritis and Rheumatism Center. The patients were residents of Trenton, Levittown, Bristol and Croydon.

Dr. Philip R. Trommer, of Women's Medical College and Einstein Medical Center, and secretary of the Eastern Penna. Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, officiated at the official opening yesterday. Also participating were Dr. Louis Udell, rheumatologist, of Frankford and University of Penna. Hospitals, Phila., who will conduct sessions at the center each Friday from three to five p. m. Physiotherapy will be under the direction of Frank J. Fuoco, staff physiotherapist of Bristol General Hospital.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, an international foundation, has allocated $1,000 for Bristol General Hospital to buy equipment for the center, according to the hospital administrator, Roger Harmon. He said three rooms, a reception room, and a part of the dispensary have been set aside for this use.

Bristol Twp. Officials Interfered, Seader Claims

Joseph O. Seader, who resigned as police chief of Bristol township last Saturday, this morning issued the following signed statement regarding the resignation:

"I resigned due to the township commissioners, namely Oscar Booz, George Sottung and Fred Hibbs running the police dept. They undermined my authority as chief by giving orders direct to the officers and changing my instructions without first consulting me. This is in direct reversal of the rules the police commissioners had made and gave me to run the police dept. Commissioner Oscar Booz gave Officer Harvey Shaw authority to change instructions I left at police headquarters in regards to duty routine of officers. This is what led to my reprimanding Officer Shaw and this led to my suspension. I was suspended without any hearing. The commissioners called me in and pulled a sheet of paper from a brief case and stated we are suspending you for two weeks. Two commissioners disagreed to the amount of time so George Sottung flipped a coin to decide the amount of time, thus the one week. I feel the suspension of Harvey Shaw and myself was brought on to force me to resign. He was given a proper hearing before being suspended and I was not present to state my side of the case. These are all the comments I will make at the present time. Further statements will be made by myself and members of the Bristol Better Government Committee at the township commissioners' meeting, May 13 at the Edgely Fire Hall."

Local Man Is Fined $125 For Violation Of Zoning Ordinance

A fine of $125 and costs of $4.50 were imposed upon John Racagno, Lincoln ave., late yesterday afternoon, after Justice-of-Peace, Anthony Nicol, had found him guilty of violating the Bristol Borough Zoning Ordinance. The hearing was held in the municipal building with two witnesses testifying against Racagno who was accused of operating a rooming house at 344 Jefferson avenue.

Mother's Day To Be Marked In Churches of Bristol

Boys' Brigade at Calvary Baptist to Observe Their Anniversary

Tribute will be paid to mother when Mother's Day is marked in the churches of Bristol tomorrow. In Calvary Baptist Church the anniversary of the Boys Brigade is to be observed.

Services of worship for the Sabbath, and meetings for next week are here outlined.

Calvary Baptist Church

Attendance in Calvary Baptist Church Sunday at 7:45 p. m. as a body will mark the second anniversary of the founding of Bristol Boys Brigade, according to the director, Edward Baumeister. The organization was formed May 10, 1951, as a branch of the local youth work program of the church. The group will appear in uniform.

The founding of the group grew out of need for more physical, mental, and spiritual training for boys of the area. In attempting to institute a well rounded program, body-building recreation such as indoor and outdoor games, contests, hiking, swimming, and camping were introduced. Crafts such as leather craft, photography, jig saw projects, soap carving, and metal craft are included in the program to help the boys mentally. Nature study has been a well received part of the training.

But no evening's program is considered complete without the memorization of Scripture and a character-building story from the Bible.

An average of 90 boys, 8-15 years, meet in the Sunday School building each Thursday and Friday night for 1½ hour training. Mr. Baumeister is assisted by Maris Hart, Charles Fry, and James Maxheimer.

Evangelistic service will be given by George Palmer, director of a radio broadcast. Accompanying him and providing special music will be organist Horace Perkins and vocalist Carol Sue Perkins.

Other Sunday services, as announced by Pastor Lehman Strauss, are: 9:45 a. m., Bible School, Mother's Day will be observed in various departments; 11, morning worship, choir, message by pastor; nursery; junior church for kindergarten and grades one to four; 6:30 p. m., Young people's groups.

Tuesday, 7:45 p. m., praise and prayer service, sixth in series of filmstrips, "The Law of the Learning Process", will be shown for Sunday School teachers and Daily

D. 1, Croydon, at a point where the road narrows down to cross a small bridge.

Bowers suffered chest and arm injuries. Miss Hewitt suffered face cuts. Alfred Kerr, 18, a passenger in Bower's car complained of head injuries but did not require treatment. Rents said Bower's car was demolished. Miss Hewitt's car was damaged in the amount of nearly $1000 Rents estimated.

TV AERIAL BLOWN DOWN

The strong winds yesterday about 6:45 p. m. blew the television aerial from where it was attached to the chimney of the home of John J. Krommes, 433 Buckley street, down onto high voltage wires nearby. The high voltage contact caused the television set in Krommes living room to burn out. Bristol firemen were called. They removed the aerial from the wires and prevented further damage to Krommes' home.

MOTHER'S DAY

There are various ways in which Mother's Day may be observed. The least that one can do is wear a flower. The carnation,
emblematic of the purity,
beauty, fidelity and peace of
mother love, is the conventional
flower for the day.

The American flag should be displayed. Congress passed a resolution in 1914 authorizing the President to designate by annual proclamation the second Sunday
of May as Mother's Day, and requesting that the national colors
be flung to the breeze "from homes and public buildings on
that day."

But the ideal manner in which
to observe the occasion is to do
a kindness to a mother—your
own, if she is still living, someone's else if your's is dead. The
generous deed, the good turn,
which is to be your tribute to respect to motherhood, may take
many forms.

But whatever form your tribute
may take, let your dominating purpose be to bring happiness to
a mother and exalt the influence
of mothers among men and women. Reverence is her due. As Coleridge says, "A mother is . . .
the holiest thing alive."

GRANDMOTHER ROUTINE

Figures don't lie. Neither do clear, sharp pictures. Seven New Jersey boys have found out all
about this to their misery.

The other day the Yankees
played the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium. On the same day seven seniors at Perth Amboy high school were absent. This wasn't too out of the ordinary,
for The Bug is still making the rounds, despite antibiotics.

But next day, when the seven perennial illuses, excuses, the principal hailed the group into his office and presented the sports
newspapers. A two-column photo, taken with a telephoto lens, showed Boston outfielder pulling up while a home run ball settled into
the lower right field stands.

Centered in the picture were
seven youths—count 'em—with
faces raised, mouths open, clearly
recognizable.

Many a baseball fan can remember the days — before the telephoto lens—when the morality on grandmothers was terrific.
Most of the time the young fry
got away with it, or else their urge to try the spring sun from
the bleachers was overlooked by
the boss.

No more. There are too many machine-made eyes—including the worst prober of all,
the TV camera—always on the lookout to trap the unwary. Certainly the seven lads from New Jersey didn't expect to get their pictures in the paper when they went to a ball game in Gotham.

MOTHER'S DAY

There are various ways in
which Mother's Day may be observed. The least that one can do is wear a flower. The carnation,
emblematic of the purity,
beauty, fidelity and peace of
mother love, is the conventional
flower for the day.

The American flag should be displayed. Congress passed a resolution in 1914 authorizing the President to designate by annual
proclamation the second Sunday
of May as Mother's Day, and requesting that the national colors
be flown to the breeze from homes and public buildings on
that day.

But the ideal manner in which
to observe the occasion is to do
a kindness to a mother—your
own, if she is still living, someone's else if yours is dead. The
generous deed, the good turn,
which is to be your tribute of respect to motherhood, may take
many forms.

But whatever form your tribute may take, let your dominating
purpose be to bring happiness to
a mother and exalt the influence
of mothers among men and
women. Reverence is her due. As Coleridge says, "A mother is . . .
the holiest thing alive."

GRANDMOTHER ROUTINE

Figures don't lie. Neither do
clear, sharp pictures. Seven New Jersey boys have found out all
about this to their misery.

The other day the Yankees
played the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium. On the same
day seven seniors at Perth Am-
boy high school were absent. This
wasn't too out of the ordinary,
for The Bug is still making the
rounds, despite antibiotics.

But next day, when the seven presented illness excuses, the principal halted the group into his office and presented the sports
taken with a telephoto lens, showed with painful clarity a frustrated Boston outfielder pulling up
while a home run ball settled into
the lower right field stands.

Centered in the picture were
seven youths—count 'em—with
faces raised, mouths open, clearly
recognizable.

Many a baseball fan can remember the days—before the
telephoto lens—when the morality on grandmothers was terrific.
Most of the time the young fry
got away with it, or else their
urge to try the spring sun from
the bleachers was overlooked by
the boss.

But no more. There are too
many machine-made eyes—including the worst probe of all,
the TV camera—always on the
lookout to trap the unwary. Certainly the seven lads from New Jersey didn't expect to get their
pictures in the paper when they
went to a ball game in Gotham.

London expert claims poker is a game of chance. Others dispute this, saying they never had a chance.

Miss Lois M. Greene And Pvt. Wm. S. Jackson Wed

PARKLAND, May 9 — The Rev. Herbert Boyd, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony in Parkland Community Church, last evening at seven, which united Miss Lois Marie Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt A. Greene, of this community, and Pvt. William S. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Jackson, of Hulmeville. A large company gathered in the candle-light edifice.

Organ music was provided by Miss Shirley Helzmann, Langhorne Manor, as Mr. Greene escorted his daughter to the altar. Vocal offerings of Mrs. William Knisely, Langhorne, were "The Lord's Prayer," "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "Ave Maria."

The bride's attendants, four in number, were costumed in strapless ballgown gowns of net over tulle. The pleated sections at the front of the skirts were edged in lace, the lace extending around the hemline. The young women wore net stoles to match their gowns; brocaded slippers, also half wreaths of flowers with face veils in the same tones as their costumes; and each carried a colonial bouquet of flowers to correspond with her gown. Mrs. John Parker, Pennell, attired in blue gown, was matron of honor for her sister; the bridesmaids being: Miss Alma Bertrand, Parkland, in powder blue; Miss Alma Fleming, in orchid; and Miss Gail Greene, another sister, in maize. The quartet wore pearl chokers and earrings, their gifts from the bride.

The bride was attractive in a white gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice and long sleeves were of the lace. The tulle at the front was also of lace, this tapering to form a long train. Front of the skirt was of nylon tulle. Bordered the top of the illusion neckline were seed pearls and sequins. Her Juliet cap of lace over satin had trim of seed pearls, with fingertip veil of tulle attached. She carried a cascade of mixed white flowers with corsage of carnations at the center.

Selected by Pvt. Jackson as best man was Mr. Bernard Vansant, Hulmeville; and the group of ushers was inclusive of: Messrs. Robert McGovern, Pennell; Robert McMenamin, Langhorne Manor; and Merritt Croker, Southampton, cousin of the bride. Gifts of the bridegroom to his attendants were tie clasps and cuff links.

Approximately 300 guests were in attendance at the reception in Parkland Community house.

Leaving for a several days motor trip, Mrs. Jackson was attired in a light gray suit, red accessories, and wore the carnation corsage from her bridal bouquet. She will remain at her parents' home while Pvt. Jackson is in service. He has been training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and is to leave shortly for Washington state. The bride graduated from Neshaminy high school, class of '52, and is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. as a clerk at Langhorne. Her husband graduated in 1949 when the same high school was known as Langhorne-Middletown.

Mrs. Greene's choice for the wedding was a dress of antique tulle in dusty rose tone, poudre blue hat, navy blue slippers, and dusty rose gloves. Mrs. Jackson, the bridegroom's mother, selected a pink and blue print on black background, this being in paper tulle; pink hat and gloves, and black slippers. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur W. Matthews Rector, Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia

"Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not." (11 Cor. 4:1).

What does your Church mean to you? Is it a source of joy and comfort to you? Is it a place where you can forget the cares of life and find peace to commune with God? Finally it is a place where eternity enters time, and where in the secret of God's presence you perceive the unseen things of the Spirit and are strengthened by a fleeting glimpse of the glory that shall one day be revealed? Then, surely, if these things are true, as they should be, you will naturally want others, especially your friends and acquaintances, to share these gifts of God. All souls are precious to our Lord; can we as His disciples regard them in any other light when we look upon the dark cross of Calvary? As in the parable of the marriage feast, Christ commands us today to go out into the highways and byways to gather souls, and compel them to come in, not by force or other coercion, but by the power of love. If others see that we possess the peace that passes all understanding, that we retain hope in a dark world because we know that God still reigns and that we can trust His love for all to come; in other words if the light of God shines through us, many will be drawn to investigate our power. At least some of these will enter the Church, and becoming disciples themselves, will, in turn, seek to impart their newly acquired gifts to others. It is by this process that the Church has grown, and it is in this way that it must continue to grow until the last day.

We are Christ's disciples. Some part of the great commission to teach all nations rests heavily upon us all. We have this ministry. Let us take heed that we fulfill it.

Mrs. William J. Stroble, 203 Cedar street, has completed Army Basic Training conducted by the 3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox, Ky. During his 16 weeks of intensive training, he attended classes on General Military Subjects and had practical work in the many combat skills. He also learned to fire the basic Army weapons—the M-1 rifle, carbine, mortar, .45 pistol and light machine gun. As a prospective infantryman, he received special training in scouting and patrolling and squad, platoon and rifle company tactics. He entered the Army Jan. 7th.

Residents of Bristol are notified of the annual May procession of the Dominican Retreat House, Elkins Park, to be held Sunday, May 17th, at four p. m. NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

Bristol Township Board Studies Fire Escape Costs

LEVITTOWN, May 9 — Bristol township school board "will attempt to work something out with the township board of commissioners" to furnish fire escapes for the Wistar Institute if the board continues to use the second floor rooms for classrooms.

J. Russell Straub, school board president, in making the announcement said that the fire doors and "panic bolts" for the Institute doors have been delivered at the Institute and will be installed "as soon as possible."

At the meeting of the School board Thursday the report of the progress at the John Fitch School in the Stonybrook master block of Levittown was reported stopped by the strike of construction workers at the school. Up until May 5, the board was told, 80 percent of the structural steel was erected at the school. The school was reported to be under roof.

The board pointed out that the site of the Fitch school was not to be improved this year to provide playground facilities for Levittown children. President Straub said that none of the new school sites will be put in condition to serve as playgrounds this year. The only school yards to be included in this summer's recreation program will be the schoolyards at the older buildings where some equipment is already available.

Straub added that there was no objection on the part of the board to the use of the Fitch grounds as a play area if volunteer supervision could be obtained by Levittown residents, and if there were enough ground a great enough distance from construction equipment to prevent children being harmed while at play.

Miss Lois M. Greene And Pvt. Wm. S. Jackson Wed

PARKLAND, May 9 — The Rev. Herbert Boyd, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony in Parkland Community Church, last evening at seven, which united Miss Lois Marie Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt A. Greene, of this community, and Pvt. William S. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Jackson, of Hulmeville. A large company gathered in the candle-light edifice.

Organ music was provided by Miss Shirley Helzmann, Langhorne Manor, as Mr. Greene escorted his daughter to the altar. Vocal offerings of Mrs. William Knisely, Langhorne, were "The Lord's Prayer," "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "Ave Maria."

The bride's attendants, four in number, were costumed in strapless ballgown dresses of net over tulle. The bridesmaids were in lace, the lace extending around the hemline. The young women wore net stoles to match their gowns; brocade slippers, also half wreaths of flowers with face veils in the same tones as their costumes; and each carried a colonial bouquet of flowers to correspond with her gown. Mrs. John Parker, Pennell, attired in blue, was matron of honor for her sister; the bridesmaids being: Miss Alma Bertrand, Parkland, in powder blue; Miss Alma Fleming, in orchid; and Miss Gail Greene, another sister, in maize. The quartet wore pearl chokers and earrings, their gifts from the bride.

The bride was attractive in a white gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice and long sleeves were of the lace. The tulle at the front was also of lace, this tapering to form a long train. Front of the skirt was of nylon tulle. Bordering the top of the illusion neckline were seed pearls and sequins. Her Juliet cap of lace over satin had trim of seed pearls, with fingertip veil of tulle attached. She carried a cascade of mixed white flowers with corsage of carnations at the center.

Selected by Pvt. Jackson as best man was Mr. Bernard Vansant, Hulmeville; and the group of ushers was inclusive of: Messrs. Robert McGovern, Pennell; Robert McMenamin, Langhorne Manor; and Merritt Croker, Southampton, cousin of the bride. Gifts of the bridegroom to his attendants were tie clasps and cuff links.

Approximately 300 guests were in attendance at the reception in Parkland Community house.

Leaving for a several days motor trip, Mrs. Jackson was attired in a light gray suit, red accessories, and wore the carnation corsage from her bridal bouquet. She will remain at her parents' home while Pvt. Jackson is in service. He has been training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and is to leave shortly for Washington state. The bride graduated from Neshaminy high school, class of '52, and is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. as a clerk at Langhorne. Her husband graduated in 1949 when the same high school was known as Langhorne-Middletown.

Mrs. Greene's choice for the wedding was a dress of antique tulle in dusty rose tone, poudre blue hat, navy blue slippers, and dusty rose gloves. Mrs. Jackson, the bridegroom's mother, selected a pink and blue print on black background, this being in paper tulle; pink hat and gloves, and black slippers. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur W. Matthews

"Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not." (II. Cor. 4:1).

What does your Church mean to you? Is it a source of joy and comfort to you? Is it a place where you can forget the cares of life and find peace to commune with God? Finally is it a place where eternity enters time, and where in the secret of God's presence you perceive the unseen things of the Spirit and are strengthened by a fleeting glimpse of the glory that shall one day be revealed? Then, surely, if these things are true, as they should be, you will naturally want others, especially your friends and acquaintances, to share these gifts of God. All souls are precious to our Lord; can we as His disciples regard them in any other light when we look upon the dark cross of Calvary? As in the parable of the marriage feast, Christ commands us today to go out into the highways and byways to gather souls, and compel them to come in, not by force or other coercion, but by the power of love. If others see that we possess the peace that passes all understanding, that we retain hope in a dark world because we know that God still reigns and that we can trust His love for all to come; in other words if the light of God shines through us, many will be drawn to investigate our power. At least some of these will enter the Church, and becoming disciples themselves, will, in turn, seek to impart their newly acquired gifts to others. It is by this process that the Church has grown, and it is in this way that it must continue to grow until the last day.

We are Christ's disciples. Some part of the great commission to teach all nations rests heavily upon us all. We have this ministry. Let us take heed that we fulfill it.

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

Bristol Township Board Studies Fire Escape Costs

LEVITTOWN, May 9 — Bristol township school board "will attempt to work something out with the township board of commissioners" to furnish fire escapes for the Wistar Institute if the board continues to use the second floor rooms for classrooms.

J. Russell Straub, school board president, in making the announcement said that the fire doors and "panic bolts" for the Institute doors have been delivered at the Institute and will be installed "as soon as possible."

At the meeting of the School board Thursday the report of the progress at the John Fitch School in the Stonybrook master block of Levittown was reported stopped by the strike of construction workers at the school. Up until May 5, the board was told, 80 percent of the structural steel was erected at the school. The school was reported to be under roof.

The board pointed out that the site of the Fitch school was not to be improved this year to provide playground facilities for Levittown children. President Straub said that none of the new school sites will be put in condition to serve as playgrounds this year. The only school yards to be included in this summer's recreation program will be the schoolyards at the older buildings where some equipment is already available.

Straub added that there was no objection on the part of the board to the use of the Fitch grounds as a play area if volunteer supervision could be obtained by Levittown residents, and if there were enough ground a great enough distance from construction equipment to prevent children being harmed while at play.

Bristol Lassies Win From New Hope Team In 7-2 League Tilt

BRISTOL, May 9 — Peggy Mount exhibited fine control yesterday as she hurled the Bristol High girls to an easy 7-2 win over New Hope High girls in a Lower Bucks County Girls Softball League tilt on the home field.

Mount held the visitors to five scattered hits and despite eight errors by her mates, managed to hold the New Hope ten to its pair of tallies. Mount had four strikeouts.

Bristol had eight hits and sewed up the game in the fourth with a quartet of markers. The runs were registered with two out. Marlene Barth reached base on an error but Martha Snyder and Olive Cochran were easy outs. Merle Jane Schmidt doubled and Ann Adams reached base on an error by Kinsey. Hilda Hamm kept the rally alive with a single and an error by Nelson put Mount on base. Janet Stephenson fled out to second to end the up-rising.

The win was the third straight for Coach Barbara Yerkes' team and enabled it to move into a triple tie for first place with a 3 and 1 log.

Quarter Sessions Office

 sions Court Office, which is the hub of criminal court work, includes Clerk of Quarter Sessions W. Lamont Marsh, Landreth Manor; Deputy Clerks Betty M. Degen, Revere, and Mary H. Dunn, Mechanicsville. Mrs. Degen has been in the QS office seven years and Mrs. Dunn, a former Clerk of Orphans Court, is in her second year. A former Clerk of Quarter Sessions Harry W. Wambold, Sellersville, RD., serves as a Deputy Q.S. Clerk during court weeks.

Among the records to be moved were about 150 dockets, or volumes, containing criminal records, road and bridge information, non-support, desertion and juvenile data.

The criminal court dockets date back to 1684 as do the road and school matters.

The new Quarter Sessions Office, which is in the northwest corner of the main corridor, has been repainted with green walls and a white ceiling. Howard S. Ellis decorated the floor with attractive two shade green and ivory block pattern linoleum.

Deputies Degen and Dunn baked cakes and the Quarter Sessions Office staff entertained at a cake and ice cream party to celebrate moving into their new attractive, spacious quarters.

Deputy Clerk Schroeder said about 150 dockets were placed in fire prevention storage vaults in the basement of the Court House because there isn't enough room to keep the large, old books in the regular office.

The Q. S. Office occupies one of three rooms occupied formerly by the Recorder of Deeds Offices which had the entire side of the Court House.

 crash that demolished a 1950 Ford sedan that struck two utility poles on Route 1 about one-quarter mile west of Pennell, at 5:10 p. m. yesterday. Traffic at this peak hour was tied up for about one-half hour following the crash.

The injured man, Walter S. Becker, of Lawrence Harbor, N. J., was admitted to Nazareth Hospital for treatment of head and face cuts. Transportation was by Trevose Heights Rescue Squad.

Chief Shook said that Becker apparently lost control of the car as he was traveling east in the direction of Trenton along Route 1. Shook said Becker identified himself as being associated with the United States Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

Two cars were damaged yesterday in a collision at Bath and Mill Creek roads, Bristol twp. police reported. They crashed after one, operated by Patricia Schultz, of Holly avenue, Pennell, made a left turn from Bath to Mill Creek road, according to Officers Harry Bauers and Bentley Chapin. Her car collided with an auto operated by Bernard Murphy, of New Kensington, who was driving west on Bath road. The right front fender and headlight of the Murphy car and the right doors of the Schultz car were damaged.

A car carrying three Bristol youths, was damaged on the right side during last night's heavy rain at 7:30 p. m. when it struck a railroad pole off Route 13 near Rogers road, according to Officers Charles

Nelson Kamoff, an engineer for the Levitt firm, attended the meeting with Kalish. Also attending was Oliver H. Marron, a registered architect, whose land in Bristol twp., touching on Levitt's property, last week was rezoned from "residential" to "commercial." Kalish said Marron is not associated with Levitt & Sons, but "is employed by a firm building in Levittown."

A second amendment made to the zoning code last night changed from R-1 residential to commercial zoning a two-acre tract on the west side of Rogers road, about 1000 feet north of Durham road. The owners, John Casmiri and Blaggio Capriotti, said they plan to operate a roadside stand there for the sale of plants. They said they formerly operated a greenhouse in Bristol at Mansion and Inlet streets. Both men live in Bristol, Casmiri at 841 Garden street and Capriotti at 707 Garden street.

Robert K. Baker, Esq., of Barrett & Monroe, solicitors for the township commissioners, said the zoning ordinances will take effect ten days after their passage is advertised, and after they have been recorded with the Bucks County Recorder of Deeds.

 apartment house at 244 Jefferson avenue. Joyce said that he had examined the premises two or three times. He said that he found two beds in one of the front rooms and in an upstairs room had seen two more beds. He described the interior of the house and stated that there were three bedrooms, a bath and a kitchen on the second floor. He had also seen two collapsible beds on the third floor. At one time he had seen, he said, four or five beds on the front porch. He saw two men in the hallway and saw two men in bed on the second floor. He said that he didn't know the men. On the second floor there are two rooms, kitchen and bath, according to Joyce.

The two attorneys clashed repeatedly over the testimony of Joyce and at one point in the hearing Justice Nicol asked Racagno's attorney if he would consent to have the police chief, Joyce and Racagno visit the house and find the exact conditions. "I have no malice," said Nicol. "This is serious and I want to know what is going on there."

Fitzcharles was asked if he would agree to have the property examined. He and Racagno went outside of the room to hold a private conference and upon their return Fitzcharles said "we have nothing to say."

Joseph Ferry, councilman from the Fifth Ward, where the property is located, took the witness stand. He told of visiting the house three weeks ago at 7 p. m. He said there were two men in two beds in a room on the first floor and two men in bed in a another room on the first floor. On the second floor he found two men in two beds and in an adjoining room two unoccupied beds, which appeared to have been slept in. In the attic he said he saw two beds pushed together and not made-up. Ferry said he had seen men wearing working clothes going in and coming out of the house.

Fitzcharles contention was that all that had been proven was that in the house were some beds and some men. He said that nothing had been presented to show how the place is rented and whether it is an apartment or a rooming house. He argued that it is an apartment and not a rooming house.
